List of Perfumes For The Toastmaster Innate Group

April 27, 2025

In front of you is a typological list of perfumes for the innate group of Toastmaster. This classification was collected and made by the authors of this website and typological theory. The purpose of this typology is to demonstrate the relationship of the odors of different perfumes to a theoretical innate group, type, temperament, and even age of types. This page is a continuation of the page "A Typological Classification Of Perfumes For Innate Types".

Back in ancient times, people tried to smear themselves with various plants and invented odorous substances to impress others with their smell. Someone thought that natural odors helped to improve the psychological health of a person or even the surrounding family and friends. This is how perfumes came about.

Despite the fact that many components in perfumes are natural, there are also synthetic additives and substances that resemble a particular odor. This is due to the fact that not all natural plants can be extracted from essential oils in sufficient quantities. Perfumes should consist of more essential oils, while toilet water or cologne should consist of less. The best part is that different perfumes can smell completely different and create different atmospheres and images. This is what gave us the idea to make a typology of perfumes.

Be warned right away that we are not affiliated with the brands of the perfumes we mentioned and do not sell their perfumes. This list includes perfumes, toilet water or colognes. All of them are marketed to all people without exception. Therefore, this list of perfumes is not a recommendation for you. You can choose any perfume you want.

The basis of classifying perfume for Toastmasters group

All scents and perfumes were hand-picked by us and divided subjectively into groups. We drew on our experience and knowledge in typology, including the differences between innate groups, types, their temperaments (sanguine, choleric, phlegmatic, melancholic) and even the theoretical age of the types (young, middle, old). We didn't really explore the gender for which particular perfumes were intended. You can find this information yourself if you wish.
